The Mohicans.

The members of the Mohican Club celebrated their first anniversary at Young's Hotel last Thursday evening. The affair was in the nature of a stag for only the members and the speaker of the evening were present. Rev. W. S. Ellington, the popular pastor of the First Baptist Church, Eighth avenue, North, was guest and principal speaker for the occasion. His subject, "The Making of a Man," was handled in his usual masterful way. Through a series of many beautiful figures of speech he carried his hearers until the young men were so entranced that they took on new life and with double determination will emulate the examples, follow the paths and do all in their power to possess traits that will make a true man. The following program was carried out: Invocation, Mr. H. Jordan Stockard, secretary Young Men's Literary Club; welcome, Mr. C. N. Perkins, president Mohican Club; song, Mohican quartette; history of club, Mr. E. M. Akin; song, Mohican quartette; address, Rev. W. S. Ellington, A. B., pastor First Baptist Church, Eighth avenue, North; song, Mohican quartette. B. F. Gordon, master of ceremonies.

Two O'clock Luncheon.

Miss Hattie Spurlock entertained Monday, May 20, with a 2 o'clock luncheon. Those present to partake of the tempting three-course lunch were Mesdames Edna Scott, Slinie Robb, Ida Bell Worley, Miss Maggie Gee and little Miss Louise Scott.

Midnight Luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Peppers, of Ninth avenue, North, served a most charming luncheon at midnight last week. The many delicacies of the season were served. The honorees of the occasion were Mrs. Elnora Rains and Mrs. Rosetta E. Howard, of Chicago.

Dinner Royal.

Mrs. Edgar R. Howard, formerly of this city, but now of Chicago, with her mother and niece were royally entertained by Mrs. Cordelia Brown Banks, of Pearl street, with an elaborate dinner on last Sunday afternoon. The table with a battenberg centerpiece and covered with snowy linen, was laden with the choicest dainties of the season.

Pleasant Evening.

Miss Daisy Bailey entertained a few friends at the home of her cousin, Miss Lula McCullough, 718 Georgia street, East Nashville, Thursday night, May 23. A three-course menu was served. The table was beautifully decorated with spring flowers and ferns. The invited guests were Misses Martha Lewis, Elizabeth Harrison, Willie Critten, James Wagner, Hiram Simpson, Louise Fite, Melvin Hayes, Louis Pasley, Albert Tyree. Master Deshield McCullough presided at the piano.

Rev. DeBerry Honored.

The home of Mr. S. H. Johnson, 1000 Twenty-first avenue, North, was the scene of a most delightful stag, in honor of Rev. W. N. DeBerry, of Springfield, Mass., last Thursday evening. The following guests, many of whom were schoolmates of the honoree, partook of the many good things prepared for them by the host: Rev. W. N. DeBerry, Springfield, Mass.; Rev. E. M. Seymour, Clarksville, Tenn.; Rev. J. C. Fields, Hon. Jas. Bumpas, Dr. C. O. Hadley, Mr. P. H. Johnson, Fayetteville, Tenn.; Mr. Adam Harding, Chas. Bosley, W. Graves, R. S. Johnson, S. P. Harrison, Robt. McAdoo, Frank L. Johnson, Booker Brown, Jr., Samuel P. Johnson, James Minnis, John North, R. G. and R. L. Martin and G. W. S. Johnson. Mrs. Johnson was assisted in serving by Mrs. J. C. Fields, Mrs. S. P. Harrison, Mrs. Wash Graves, Mrs. H. M. Harding, Mrs. Estella M. Martin, Misses Amanda, Anna Bell and Genevieve Johnson.

Birthday Celebrated.

On the 24th of this month the doors of the beautiful home of Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Simmons, at Decherd, Tenn., were thrown open to celebrate Mrs. Simmons' birthday. When the invited guests had made their arrival and were seated at the table they were forced to exclaim, "Eye hath not seen nor mouth tasted such delicious things before." Four courses were served. Those present were Mesdames E. E. Peterson, Superintendent of the National W. C. T. U.; E. A. Townsend, S. S. Gray, of Winchester; M. L. Craft, Cowan; Della W. Acklin, Katie Robinson, S. Modena and little Hattie B. Trail, of Shelbyville. Mrs. Simmons received quite a number of presents and all the guests wished that her birthday came more than once a year.

Bon Ton Club Organized.

A congenial company of young people met at the residence of Miss Katie Mae Ferrell, on Stevens street, Wednesday evening, for the purpose of organizing a club to be known as the Bon-Ton Club. The following officers were elected: Mr. Frank B. Weatherford, president; Mr. Chester Bell, vice president; Mr. Durely C. Cook, treasurer; Miss Essie L. Wade, secretary; Miss Sadie B. Anderson, assistant secretary. After all business was transacted music and games were enjoyed. The hostess, assisted by her mother, served a delicious two-course menu. The club adjourned to meet Monday evening with Mr. D. C. Cook, 512 Tenth avenue, South. The members are Misses Lella Anderson, James Anna Ashworth, Mary J. Caruthers, Janie A. Wood, Madeline Short, Daisy O. Carter, Messrs. Robert Crutcher, Clarence Gibson, John A. Wade, Jr., and Bernard Mays.

Y. M. L. C.

A very encouraging audience witnessed the anniversary service of the Y. M. L. Club, that was very successfully rendered. The intense heat of the day was but a small obstacle in the attendance at large, for the audience was much impressed with the work of the club. The ambrosia of this delightful repast was not the members from the club, but the sermon delivered by the speaker of the occasion, Dr. W. S. Ellington. His text was "Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way." The instructiveness, inspiration, encouragement and timely advice met with the favorable comment that always exists in the hearts of the members. The program of the club meeting was very wholesome and the numbers of the same were as follows: Song, club; Life of Carlisle, U. S. Gurnes; solo, H. Jordan Stockard; Life of Dunbar, Robt. Suggs. The club was pleased with the presence of the General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Mr. Sanders, who entertains much sympathy for us, and said in regard to his work, that he wished it magnified that he did not want to conflict with the church work of any Christian young man, but he wanted to monopolize the superfluous time of all the Christian young men, and those who are not Christians would aid them to become Christians.

Friday Review Club.

The club met at the residence of Mrs. Albert Watkins, Jefferson street, Friday, May 17th with the president presiding. After the routine of business, the roll was called and each member responded with a quotation from Dunbar. A splendid musical program was rendered as follows: Paper, Mrs. H. D. York; Vocal solo, Mrs. L. B. Hart; Recitation, Mrs. E. T. Brown; Instrumental solo, Mrs. J. W. Russell. The guests were then invited to the dining-room which was beautifully decorated with ferns and roses, representing the club colors, and a three-course menu was served. The visitors present were Mesdames A. G. Price and B. Bailey. Each made a short talk.

Reunion and Birthday Dinner.

Last Monday, to the delight and surprise of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Manson, Eleventh avenue, North, a notable birthday dinner and family reunion took place. The occasion was the ninetieth anniversary of Rev. B. B. Manson, of Lebanon, Tenn., a respected, retired minister of the M. E. Church. He was accompanied from Lebanon to this city to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Manson, his grand children, by Miss Nancy Fite, mother of Mr. Jerry Manson. Mrs. Alberta Ward, Mrs. Sallie Seay, and Mrs. Nannie McGregor, daughters; Mr. Jas. McGregor, son-in-law; and Miss Edna McGregor, great-granddaughter, sat around the sumptuous table and ate freely of the healthful viands and talked of old friends of by-gone days. While the older members were thus engaged the younger set, with little Edna McGregor, Jerry Manson, Jr., Olander Manson and Pearl, all great-grandchildren, romped and played in the yard. Late in the day Mr. and Mrs. Will Oden came. Mrs. Oden was a Miss Susie Manson, and later still came Mrs. Luella Jones and Mrs. Nora Haynes, cousins, who live in East Nashville. Dr. J. A. Lester was a caller at the Manson home and had the pleasure of the association of those life-long friends. His earliest recollections of Sunday-school and church service were had under the guidance of this honored and useful minister of the Gospel. May Rev. B. B. Manson and his descendants live many more years, and by their useful lives continue to bless mankind.

Imperial Club.

The members of the Imperial Club met with Mrs. Perry Bonds, of West Nashville, Wednesday evening, May 22nd. Quite a number were present. The usual industrial hour was taken up in beautiful needle work. The club at this meeting laid out plans for a social to be given in the near future. Much business of importance was transacted. After business hour the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Robert Nicholson, served the guests to a delicious three-course menu. In the cool hour of the evening each guest bade the hostess adieu, expressing themselves as having been highly entertained. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Knox Campbell, of Thirtieth avenue, South, Wednesday, June 5.

Housekeepers' Club.

The House-keepers Club met with Mrs. S. H. Killebrew May 27th at 805 Seventh avenue, South. After the regular routine of business Mrs. D. Houston read a very interesting paper, "Power of Woman." Mesdames Evans Tyree, W. A. Lewis, both went to the A. M. E. Conference. Madam Tyree made quite a nice talk about the Conference and brought each lady a thimble as a souvenir. Madam W. A. Lewis promised to make a talk about the Conference at the next meeting. She also remembered each member of the club while away. The ladies highly appreciated their souvenirs. The guest of the club was Mrs. T. B. Hardiman. The hostess served a delicious menu. The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. C. T. Randals, 135 Green street, June 10.

E. M. B. Club.

The E. M. B. Club met at the residence of Miss Julia Oford on Jo Johnston avenue, Monday evening, May 27th. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Lafayette Moore. Roll was called and each member responded with a quotation from the Bible. An ice-course was served. The club adjourned to meet with Mr. E. S. Doris, 1020 Ninth avenue, North, Monday evening, June 3rd.

Dinner Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Washington House, of Ninth avenue, South, entertained

CONGRESS SUBJECTS FOR 1912

Select the Subject that you want to write upon for the Tuskegee meeting of the Sunday-School Congress. As has been the custom, the Secretary of the Sunday-School Congress has announced that the special committee, which has charge of the selecting of the subjects for each year's Congress, has named this year only ten subjects. This is the smallest number of subjects ever selected for any of the previous Congresses, but it was brought about, says the Secretary, on account of the desire to devote more time to exhausting the important subjects before the meeting each year. He stated that two subjects would be discussed each day, hence only ten would be required for the five days.

1. The Responsibilities of the Sunday-school as a Spiritual Organization.
2. The Specific Requirements of the Primary Class.
3. The Organized Class the Most Effective for the Adolescent and Adult.
4. The Sunday-school Teachers' and How Best Conducted.
5. Of What Special Benefit are the Metokas and Galedas?
6. The Denominational Academies, Colleges and their Obligations to the Sunday-school.
7. The Sunday-school Room and its Equipment.
8. The Sunday-school, a Connecting Link Between the Home and Church.
9. The Sunday-school Teachers Most Difficult Problems and their Solutions.
10. The Sunday-school, a Missionary Recruiting Station.

It is requested that those who desire to write on any of the above named subjects select the same, sending in the number with their name and address, to
